EYLAN TRIPLETS DUE

Home Rule Transit Bills Near Head of List—Dry Law Fight Expected—Movie Censorship
Repealer Afloat

Albany, Mar. 23.—Swimming along at moderate pace toward its adjournment on April 10, the legislature this week will make an attempt to clear up the backlog of bills. It is expected that the final two weeks may be devoted to the eleventh hour rush of business which always develops.

The appropriation bill of $117,000,000 will probably be among the first to go to the floor, and its passage will mark the first step in the final "cleaning-up" process. It has been said by the leaders of both houses that when the appropriation bill is passed their respective groups will be ready to adjourn. The measure should come up in the assembly to night and go to the senate within the next three or four days.

In the case of the senate, however, there is the added provision that the administration must have been dealt with in a satisfactory manner and to this task the upper house will devote most of its efforts during the week. If the full Democratic delegation of 25 senators can be present for tomorrow night's session indications are that it will last well into Tuesday morning, with a good chance of passing at least a score of fairly important Democratic platform bills.

Eylan Triplets Will Come Up

Particular attention will be paid by the upper house to the Eylan triplet home rule transit bills and the Walker transit measure. It is expected to provide for municipal ownership and operation of New York city's existing transportation facilities, as well as to establish city bus and trucking systems. These measures were introduced in 1923 and have been held up by the senate last Thursday and will probably be among the first to come up tomorrow night.

For several days there have been on the senate calendar a variety of measures which seek to carry out administration recommendations, but which have been held over until such time as Majority Leader James J. Walker could marshal his 25 followers.

The assembly this week is not likely to be productive of a great deal in the way of support of the Democratic program, although if the motor vehicle bill, reported favorably last week, comes up, it will receive approval. This is in good part a Republican bill, legislators maintain, as it embodies provisions advocated by both parties. The bill carried out the recommendations of Governor Smith for creation of a central automobile bureau, state wide licensing of automobile operators and several other changes from present motor vehicle regulations.

Movie Censorship Repealer Still Afloat

If the Downing-Porter rural education bill, seeking consolidation of country school districts, should be brought up in either house this week, it is likely to cause a discussion which may reflect in small part that which developed during the hearing on the measure last Wednesday. The bill was introduced by a Republican assemblyman and a Democratic senator so that whatever lines may be drawn will be on locality rather than on political division.

Repeal of motion picture censorship, believed to have been definitely held to rest last week when the assembly voted and means considerable time to report out a bill seeking repeal of the law.

WANTS COURTS TO ACT ON SINCLAIR

Oil Committee Seeks Grand Jury
Action Because Magnate Will Not Answer Questions

Washington, Mar. 23.—The senate oil committee decided today to recommend that the senate certify Harry F. Sinclair to the district attorney of the District of Columbia for grand jury proceedings because he refused to answer further questions put by the committee investigators.

Some of the members of the committee anticipated that an effort would be made in the senate to have the losses of Teapot Dome talked before the bar of the senate on contempt charges but they said that in this case the committee undoubtedly would work out to the same purpose as the committee recommendation.

The decision to recommend that the case be given to the local authorities came after the committee had deliberated over two possible courses—that it should work out to the same purpose as the committee recommendation.

Harold Vivian, a reporter on the New York Times, will be called by the committee tomorrow. He will be questioned about a story he wrote for the Times stating that it was understood that if the latter plan were followed the oil operator undoubtedly would gain his liberty on a writ of error.

The committee also is expected to recommend that the case be given to the local authorities came after the committee had deliberated over two possible courses—that it should work out to the same purpose as the committee recommendation.

REPORT UPHOLDS SOBRIETY REPUTATION OF WASHINGTON

Washington, Mar. 23.—The national capital's reputation for sobriety, recently under attack from various sources, was upheld in a report submitted to the Prohibition Commission today by H. M. Luckett, chief of the fourth enforcement division. For three months ending March 1, the report showed seizures of 15,176 gallons of various liquors.

"Constant improvements have been noted of violations of the national prohibition act in the city of Washington," Chief Luckett said, adding that "conditions are decidedly better than they were a year ago."

The report said that only about one per cent of the liquor seized in Washington and Maryland is genuine, 99 per cent is made from redistilled, denatured alcohol artificially colored and flavored.

NO REAL DIFFERENCE OF OPINION AMONG EXPERTS

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Mar. 23.—The departure for London yesterday of Reginald McKenna, Sir Robert Kildersley, and Sir J. C. Stamp, British members of the experts committee, has given rise to reports that fundamental differences have cropped out in the work of the experts and that the British representatives have gone to consult their government.

It was stated officially this evening that no serious disagreement exists on the main decisions of the committee, and that, while different opinions have been expressed to the course of the discussion, the report now being drafted will be unanimously signed by both committees.

ROXIE STINSON READY TO END HER TESTIMONY

May Be Cross-Examined by Woman Assistant District Attorney General

TO FINISH LETTER READING

Has Other Papers to Support Her Story, She Says, of Amazing "Deal"

Washington, Mar. 23.—The third week of the Daugherty investigation opens tomorrow with Miss Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jess Smith, friend of Attorney General Daugherty, ready to conclude her amazing story of "deals" in whiskey, prize fight films, drugs, and big politics.

Tomorrow Miss Stinson is to undergo cross-examination with the possibility of a matching of women's wits. The questioning may be conducted by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general. Arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Willebrandt, who followed the testimony all day yesterday, undertake the examination but a federal grand jury engagement may prevent what promises to be a spectacular feminine duel.

To Conclude Letter Reading

In closing her story which opened the Daugherty investigation, Miss Stinson is to finish reading her letters from Jess Smith, and other papers which she says support her long and startling tale of "deals" which she charges involved Smith, Mr. Daugherty, and others of the attorney general's official and personal entourage since he took office.

The Dempsey-Carpenter prize fight film exhibition "deal," and whiskey "deals," including the $200,000 New York bootlegging story given by John Gironi, also are to be developed this week. Fred C. Quimby, New York partner of Tex Rickard in the film affair, and William A. Orr, New York Republican politician connected in the testimony with both the film and New York whiskey transactions are under orders to return here tomorrow. Both have been in since their first appearance and the period of their further examination is uncertain.

8,000 LISTED IN BLUE LAW CRUSADE

Jersey City, Mar. 23.—Hudson county blue law violators were listed for the second time today, 10,000 names having been gathered by a police search weeks ago. Today about 8,000 alleged violators of the Sunday observance laws were listed, several hundred of them in Jersey City being patrons of commercial enterprises whose names were taken along with those of the proprietors.

The names again will be presented to the grand jury which has been investigating the "blue law" question but which as yet has returned no indictments against alleged violators.

Confectionery stores, gasoline stations, shoe shops, parlors, and undertakers, were listed as well as motion picture and vaudeville theatres.

The present grand jury will be discharged on March 21. It is expected that the April term will take up the Sunday observance citation if no definite stand is taken by the present body.

DEMPSEY-FIRPO FILMS SHOWN

New York World Carries Story of Non-Interference by Justice Department

New York, Mar. 23.—Motion pictures of the Dempsey-Firpo boxing match, which took place last September, have been shipped about the country and shown in various cities in violation of the law, similar to those of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight which a senate committee has been investigating. The New York World will say tomorrow.

The newspaper has information that the "system" of arrest and fine, alleged to have been followed in the Dempsey-Carpenter films, was not the procedure with the Dempsey-Firpo films, but that in most instances the latter were shown without any interference by officers of the law.

Officials of the department of justice will be quoted as authority for the information that it has made no effort to learn the facts of the situation but that the department will prosecute every alleged violation brought to its attention.

The Dempsey-Firpo films, the World will say, were shown in Chicago for two months without federal interference, despite the efforts of municipal authorities to stop the exhibition. Neither did federal authorities interfere in Cincinnati, according to the newspaper, but the exhibitions there were stopped after two weeks by the state film censors.

Tomorrow's conference may be regarded as the formal development of the policy inaugurated by the French government by its recent publication of its Yellow Book.

REED NOT TO ASK SUPPORT OF MISSOURI DEMOCRATS

Washington, Mar. 23.—Senator James A. Reed, Missouri, in a statement tonight, declared he would not ask the convention of Democrats of his state to support his candidacy for the presidency or to confer upon him any favors whatsoever.

"I expect to abide by the decision of the people of Missouri rendered at the August primaries," he said, "and to heartily support our ticket."

Senator Reed said that when he asked the Missouri Democrats to endorse him as a presidential candidate he "hoped no considerable antagonism or bitterness would be aroused, but these expectations were not realized."

SAYS SHE SHOT HERSELF TO SATISFY BRUTAL WISH

Tulsa, Okla., Mar. 23.—That she had shot herself in the leg intentionally to become an invalid to satisfy the "brutal wish" of her husband was the statement of Mrs. Gertrude Thomas in a petition for divorce from Orville Thomas, wealthy cigar man of Tulsa.

The shooting took place January 22, 1922, after an all-night ride in a motorcar in which the couple quarreled over an alleged affair. Mrs. Thomas stated in her petition, which was filed in district court here yesterday, she charged "extreme cruelty."

"My husband gave me money to purchase the pistol," Mrs. Thomas further stated.

WAKE SECOND ATTEMPT TO DESTROY BUILDING

Amsterdam, Mar. 23.—A second attempt was made Saturday night to demolish the building at 10 Washington street, the city police suspect an enemy of the owner of the structure and will follow that clue in an effort to find the guilty party.

EURYTHMIC DANCES GIVEN IN CHURCH DESPITE MANNING

Six Young Women, Dressed in Greek Costume, Perform Ritual
at Two Services

PASTOR DEFENDS ACTION

Declares This Means Was Form of Expression Before Language Was Known

New York, Mar. 23.—Eurythmic dancing was given today at the church of St. Mark-in-the-Bowery in defiance of its interdiction by Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York.

"The ritual dance of the Delta Iota Iota organization," designed for the observance of the feast of the annunciation of the Virgin Mary was given by six young women, dressed in Greek costume, at both afternoon and evening services. Preceding the dance, the Rev. Dr. William Manning, rector, defended eurythmic dancing and explained the symbolism of those on the program.

During the dance, which was in four parts and to the accompaniment of music by harp and organ from Wolf-Ferrari's "Vita Nuova" the congregation remained hushed and attentive and some remained afterward for the hymn that closed the service. In the afternoon one man left when the dancing began, muttering "scandalous."

POLICE RESTRAIN CROWDS

Admission was by card and police kept out crowds which gathered early and waited long after the services began.

The rector defended the dance as a form of expression used before language was known, but which, with the possible exception of childish folk dances and the ballet, he said had "become hopelessly degraded."

After use of Anglo-Saxon expression, the Rev. Dr. Guthrie asserted, it was difficult for the average person to use the dance as a mode of expression. "The difficulty we moderns have is to take the dancers seriously," he said. "I have started an innovation which has in it restraint and reverence but to innovate it I have to be audacious."

BLOODSTAINED LETTER CLUE

Police Have to Murder of Osteopath

Kansas City, Mar. 23.—A letter which apparently had been gripped by bloodstained fingers, has been found in the dining room of the house of Zoe Wilkins, slain osteopath and love adventures, police announced today.

Investigators declared this was the only material clue in the case except the knife with which the crime was committed. The letter was given to the Berthillon experts for examination.

Mrs. Katharine Carter reported to police today she had received a startling anonymous telephone call.

"You'll get the same treatment Zoe Wilkins got if you don't tell the police all you know about her murder," Mrs. Carter quoted the anonymous caller. "You know what I mean."

Mrs. Carter, who said she was a former police woman of Buffalo, declared she did not even know Dr. Wilkins.

MAY PUT TAX CUT IN NEW RESOLUTION

Revenue Bill Faces Several More
Weeks of Study by Senate
Finance Committee

Washington, Mar. 23.—With the revenue bill facing several more weeks of study by the senate finance committee, impetus was given today to the movement to remove the provision for a 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year and incorporate it in a resolution for immediate action.

Secretary Mellon in a letter to Representative Ackerman, Republican, New Jersey, commenting on the latter's resolution proposing to eliminate the September installment payments, said he preferred the proposed cut to be made as provided in the revenue bill, but suggested the provision be taken care of by a subsequent bill which would amend the act of 1923.

The revenue bill would allow deduction of 25 per cent of the first installment to be made when the second installment is paid and further deduction of 25 per cent on the second and remaining installments when they are paid. If the entire tax was paid on March 15, it would allow a 25 per cent refund. Elimination of the September payments as proposed by Representative Ackerman would disturb the cash position of the treasury in September, Mr. Mellon said.

COOLIDGE AND JOHNSON TO MEET IN NEW BALLOT WAR

Stout Falls, S. D., Mar. 23.—Just one week after their "battle of ballots" in North Dakota, President Coolidge and Senator Hiram W. Johnson, California, will contest in the Republican presidential preference primaries in South Dakota on Tuesday.

This time there will be no third entry in the race, as was furnished by the sticker campaign by Senator Robert M. La Follette, Wisconsin, in North Dakota, and the issue, in both the Coolidge and Johnson camps has been declared as "clear cut" between the two.

While major interest attaches to the Republican presidential endorsement, the Democratic field also will witness a contest. A group of delegates pledged to William G. McAdoo being opposed by a "fusion" unit, structured ticket, avowedly anti-McAdoo.

PERSIA ABANDONS IDEA OF FORMING REPUBLIC

The correspondent says that a momentous session of the national assembly to decide on the future form of government was held Saturday, when, owing to the opposition of the Viceroy and the public, the agitation in favor of a republic collapsed.

MAY ADD TWO MORE INQUIRIES BY CONGRESS

Five Already in Full Blast, Two Others Temporarily Inactive—
Lead Franks Investigation to Begin

ANOTHER POSSIBLE

Some Senators Contemplate Probe
of Red River Oil Legislation Passed in Closing Days of Last Congress

Washington, Mar. 23.—With five investigations in full blast and two or three in a state of temporary quiescence, congress tomorrow is expected to decide whether two more shall be added to the list—investigations of the air craft industry and the bureau of engraving and printing.

The Daugherty investigation, the Teapot Dome investigation, the Shipping board investigation, and the revenue bureau investigation will take up where they left off last week and the investigation of alleged frauds in the Rio Grande valley of Texas, asked by Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, will begin.

Investigation of charges against two members of congress by a Chicago grand jury has been authorized but is held up awaiting action of a Washington grand jury which is hearing evidence in the case.

The diploma mill investigation, headed by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, is for the time being inactive, as is the senate propaganda investigation. Senator Mason, Republican, New Hampshire, is chairman of the committee which will investigate Senator Hefflin's charges.

May Demand Another Inquiry

While all of these committees already have authority to investigate, the house must vote on resolutions by Representative Nelson, Republican, Insurance, Wisconsin, to investigate the air craft industry and by Representative King, Republican, Illinois, to investigate charges of bond duplications in the bureau of engraving and printing. Meanwhile, certainly numerous outstanding questions of investigation of the steel mill and the railroad need to be taken care of by the house.

Business in the senate in the way of legislation this week will center largely around a bill to tax gasoline in the District of Columbia; the proposal of Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, to give states the power to affirm or reject the action of legislatures in passing on constitutional amendments; action by the agricultural committee on a reforestation geyser measure offered by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, and possible decision in the senate on the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure. No appropriation bills are pending in the senate.

The house will take up tomorrow the Fleck resolution for a $10,000,000 appropriation to purchase food supplies for relief of German women and children, and the two resolutions authorizing aircraft and bureau of engraving investigations. All of these proposals are expected by leaders to be adopted.

BIG REWARD OFFERED FOR ASSAILANTS OF BRITISH

(By the Associated Press)

Quebec, Mar. 23.—Spurred by the government's offer of a reward of 10,000 pounds for the capture of the men who joined the Free State troops and police in the search for the persons who shot down British soldiers and local civilians as they were returning from Spike Island on Friday.

Thus far no arrests have been made, and the only detail which has been learned concerning the circumstances leading to the crime is that some miles outside of Quebec on Friday night two motor cars were observed which, it is thought, carried a covering party to the assassins.

The British torpedo boat destroyer Sea Wolf arrived in Quebec this morning with the purpose, it is believed, of removing the body of Private Aspinwall, one of the victims of the shooting, to England. Free State troops are patrolling Quebec and the surrounding district and nobody is being allowed to land at Spike Island.

PARIS CHIEFS PLUCKY GERMAN BICYCLE RACER

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Mar. 23.—Earl Wimp, the first German bicycle rider to appear at the Paris Velodrome since the World war, was given a cordial reception by the French public today.

The German rider was greeted only as a successful athlete, he took the track in the face of what he evidently was considered would be a hostile demonstration against him.

The crowd, however, warmed up to him at Wimp, surrounded of officials and champions, plucked him on the back and went after the ladder in the race with a great cheer of encouragement. He was heard cheering after he finished third in a race of six.

Cooling System Should Be Carefully Inspected Before Warm Weather Arrives

During the cold weather, you have probably been using an anti-freeze solution in your radiator. This has a certain amount of effect on the rubber of the hose connections. In addition to this the hot water circulating through them, has a tendency to rot the rubber. The outside of the hose connections may look all right, but if the car has been very much service, the rubber skin inside the hose may have rotted and curled up, so obstructing the free flow of water through the cooling system. It is a good investment to remove both upper and lower hose connections each season and renew them. You are then sure that they will have no trouble by leaking or obstructing the flow of water through the circulating system later in the season.

If there is any mud or dirt between the fins of the radiator, take a hose with a good strong pressure behind it and flush through radiator from the top. Before you do this, however, cover up the spark plugs and ignition system so that these parts will not get wet.

Now start the engine and if convenient take a run for a mile or so, then stop and examine to see that the radiator or hose connections are not leaking. If the radiator repair man repair it. Do not use any of the system before test about 1000 feet to make a permanent repair. Most of these are all right for a temporary repair while waiting, etc., but are not to be trusted for making a permanent job.

Now have a look at the Fan Belt to see that it is adjusted properly. The belt must not be kept too tight or you will have trouble with it stretching and breaking, and you will also put a strain on the fan bearing. It must not be too loose or it will slip. If the belt is adjusted correctly, you should just be able to slide the fan pulley on the belt by pressing down with a moderate pressure on a fan blade. If it slips around too easily, you will find an adjustment that will enable you to increase the tension on the belt until it is correct. The belt should be inspected about once a month, and the fan bearing lubricated about once a week.

If your cooling system is of the Thermo-Siphon type, the above is all the attention it will require to put it in first class condition. If, however, you have a pump to circulate the water, fill the radiator nearly full, then start the engine and observe to see if the water in the radiator bubbles or churns when the engine is running. If it shows no sign of movement, then have it examined by a good mechanic, as it is possible that the key holding the impeller blades on the pump shaft is sheared, and the water is not circulating. This trouble is generally caused when the water in the cooling system freezes, then when the engine is started, as the impeller blades are frozen solid and cannot move, something has to go, and it is usually the key in the pump shaft.

If the water is circulating all right, then examine to see that the pump glands are not leaking. If they are, tighten the packing nut. Be careful in doing this, however, that you do not tighten it too much. If you find you cannot stop the leak by tightening the packing nut, then the glands will have to be repacked. To do this, unscrew the packing nut and wind a few inches of hemp that has been soaked in graphite grease around the shaft, then tighten the packing nut. If you notice that the shaft has a series of rings where the packing goes, then it may be necessary to fit a new shaft to make a good job.

Farmers Call for Trucks.

It is estimated that the farmers of America will absorb about 2,000,000 motor trucks in the next 10 years, not to mention the large number of passenger cars they will purchase.

SNOW REMOVAL MEASURE

WILL UNDOUBTEDLY PASS ASSEMBLY TOMORROW

During the recent Fifty-Fifty session State and Counties — New York Opposition Unjust — Farmers Unjustified to Remove Blocked All Winter — Highway Closed By All — Snow to Remove Blocked to Motor Trucks.

The bill which provides for state aid in the matter of snow removal, known as the Edmund snow removal bill, was favorably reported March 4th, by the committee on ways and means of the New York state assembly, and will be on third reading in the assembly on Monday.

When the bill came up before the house on second reading opposition developed on the part of some of the members from the city of New York. The bill had received general endorsement at the Automobile hearing and was favored by all the cities of the state excepting the city of New York. The New York members complained that money paid by that great city for taxes would be used under this bill for the removal of snow from the country highways, and they declared that the country people should clean their own door yards as the cities had to remove the snow from their own streets.

New York Opposition Unjust.

This opposition on the part of the city of New York is most short sighted and unjust. The snow removal proposition is one that divided itself into three considerations or divisions: First, the Edmund bill proposes that the state assist on a fifty-fifty basis in removing the snow from the main trunk line highways or the general highway systems of the state.

Upon the counties will rest the burden of one-half of the expense of removing the snow from the state and county system—an added burden rests on the towns. (removing snow from all the county roads back to the last farm house. Because in this age, the time has arrived when the highways will not remain blocked. The medieval mode of travel to wit: by horse and cutter, or ox team, has been superseded by the fast moving automobile and motor truck.

The farmer cannot remain isolated during the winter season, neither can the manufacturer or merchant be restricted in his ordinary mode of shipment during the winter season. The demand is growing by leaps and bounds of opening up for motor vehicle travel the entire highway system of the state throughout the twelve months of the year.

There will be approximately 12,000 miles of improved highways in the state when the Hewitt map is completed; there are some 80,000 unimproved highways. The city of New York has little ground of complaint if the state is asked to contribute one-half towards removing the snow from the 12,000 miles of improved highways, while the great burden rests upon the counties and the towns of removing the snow from the 80,000 miles of unimproved highways in the state. Objection was made as said before, by the New York city assemblymen when the bill was moved for advancement from second to third reading. A slow roll call was demanded by them, but was defeated by a technical maneuver, and Assemblymen were forced to vote on the bill.

So to the order of third reading without taking the slow roll call vote. The bill has since been put over to Monday night, March 14th, when it will undoubtedly pass the assembly.

Some Interesting Facts.

On July 4, 1894, there was but one practical automobile in the world. The following year the first automobile race was run near Chicago. In 1896 England limited road motor vehicles to four miles an hour. In 1903 the first motor vehicle crossed the American continent—a curved dash Oldsmobile.
